All graduates of universities are dreaming of a promising position, but, alas, the requirements of employers are sometimes too severe.

As a rule, young and ambitious people with higher education are required, while the presence of experience in the specialty at least 3 years is required. Immediately the question arises, and where to take this most "experience" if the higher education received several months or days ago?

The problem to pain is familiar to many graduates of higher educational institutions and not only, so it is necessary to pay special attention to her - work is still sooner or later to seek.

Production practice and employment

To successfully defend a diploma, a student at the 4th - 5th year is obligatory undergoing production practices in its specialty.

For engineering specialties - this is a plant and production, for the humanitarian - school or the editorial office of the newspaper, for future doctors - the internship, and for lawyers is one of the notarial office of the city.

The graduate's production practice lasts is not one month, so he has every chance of establish itself before the new team from the best side as a competent specialist.

What is it necessary for?

First, you never need to spoil the reputation of your family and shake parents.

Secondly, such successes at work will help successfully protect the graduation project.

Thirdly, it is possible that in the labor collective you will be interested in and before receiving a diploma will offer a good position.

So the prospects and opportunities are, especially since no one will definitely spread out valuable personnel.

That is why it is necessary to collect all your knowledge of the specialty and society in life, to find a common language with the potential boss and labor collective, try to knock out a place after practicing.

Such a situation is not uncommon when the employer offers work to an intelligent trait. Of course, the probation period is first given, and if it is successful, you can count on full employment, social package and decent wages.

The prospect of rainbow, so it is not worth missing it, especially since the second one such a chance can simply not be introduced to the way.

Distribution in university

Many domestic universities practices the distribution of graduates, that is, actively contribute to the employment of young professionals without work experience.

They participate in an affiliate program with numerous companies of various areas, and after their labor collectives are replenished with new employees in the face of young and ambitious graduates.

But how does this happen?

As a rule, according to the results of the school year, there is not enough employees on a particular enterprise - an incomplete state, so to speak.

To fill such a shortage of valuable personnel, management sends a special letter to university, in which it reports in detail about the qualifications of the required specialists, their quantities, job descriptions and an estimated salary.

As a rule, it is 3 - 4 people per enterprise, but there may be many such concerned organizations. So the student of the fifth course has every chance after the protection of the thesis project to receive decent work in the specialty and the so-called "lifting".

What is required of it?

Of course, the diligent study, namely the high middle score. The higher this indicator, the more potential employer is interested and is ready to offer one of the vacancies to choose from.

Excellent and intelligent specialists are always in price, moreover, they are definitely awaiting rapid promotion on the trade union staircase, confidence in tomorrow and a bright future.

Lists of students on the distribution are made in descending order of average score for performance.

That is why it is very important to "do not reach in the tail", otherwise you can finally forget about employment from the university.

Remember, the number of vacancies is strictly limited, and only the best of the best can count on them.

That is why it is necessary to think seriously about their performance, if possible, to recall satisfactory assessments and increase their chances of obtaining work in the specialty.

Such employment from the university has a lot of advantages, and it is important about them to know at least as an incentive.

It:

chance to work in the specialty and promote the knowledge obtained in the university;

the possibility of obtaining lifting with official employment;

Training at the university in the account of the general experience for the employment record;

calm summer after release;

Chance to get a position of a specialist.

So this is a real opportunity to work out without work experience, and it is better to use it, rather than ignore in anticipation of a miracle that may not come.
