

Life Tips: How to Provers yourself a good student

1. Put learning activities at the head of the corner.

As I have already mentioned above, the most important thing is your progress. At the same time, it is important to understand that it is not important as such assessments, namely those knowledge and the skills that you acquire during training in the university. Again - why did you come to the university - learn or play an iPhone on couples, as some do?

2. Be a community.

However, in order to establish itself a good student of one good progress. We still need to be a community, i.e. Take part in various events held within the walls of your higher educational institution. Only one should not overdo in public life.

I personally know a person who has been active social activities from the very first days of his stay in the university. However, after 3 years of this person, with disgrace, was expelled from the university for systematic passes and unsuitability. Here are such things.

Try to harmoniously combine social life from the academic and then the reputation of a "good student" for you to entrenched for many years. You will also graduate from the university, and everyone will say about you: "A, remember, Vova Petrov, what a beautiful student was!"

3. Show the initiative

Some believe that the initiative makes bad things with the initiator. If you also consider, then you can not read further. The article is clearly designed not for you. If you like to take the initiative, then listen to such a secret chip. Yes, yes, this is really a secret chip, as only a limited number of people know about her. And you know why? The thing is that there are very few such people in nature.

Super secret chip is that ... Are you ready? .. What (only T-ss, no one, okay?) ... People (whisper) do not want and do not want to take on at least some responsibility. Everyone wants to sit in one place exactly and that everything was. Yeah of course. Dream, as they say ...

Not only university suffers from the lack of initiative people, but also the whole country as a whole. Well, okay, so far we will not talk about the country, it is important for us to deal with what the initiative will help in our goal - to establish yourself a good student.

How to increase the student scholarship?

Than, what, that's what. If you are an initiative person, you will offer some ideas, and most importantly, take responsibility for their implementation, then you are in any way (hear, in any way) prove yourself as a good student. The initiative can be punishable, but who does nothing, it does not get anything at all. You can do something correctly, something wrong. No matter. The main thing is to do.

It is our works that remain. We are all die (again, almost no one thinks about it, especially in the youth years). There will be only our creativity. Positive (Leonardo da Vinci, Mendeleev) or negative (Hitler). Stories in principle is not so important. It is important for it that people do something. And it is better that people do something directly with something. And any, even the most ambitious things begin with ideas and initiatives. Think about it.
